Talanoa paper board

tah-lah-NOH-ah · Tongan for “talking together”

The same pictures as on the phone, in the same places, on paper. Use it whenever the phone can’t be used, and to show words:

- while the phone is charging, or if it’s lost or broken
- in the shower, the bath, the pool, or out in the rain
- to show words while you talk with him (point to the pictures as you say them)

How to use it

- He points to a picture. Say the words out loud (they’re written under each picture), and answer them, just as if the phone had spoken.
- Give him time. Finding the right page and picture can take a while.
- The top row is on every sheet except the ABC sheet, above the pictures as on the phone.
- Laminate the sheets and keep them on a ring, in the same order as the phone’s pages.
